Greenwich Hospital Joins Elite List as a National Caring Science Affiliate of Watson Caring Science Institute

Deerfield Beach, FL: Watson Caring Science Institute (WCSI) and Dr. Jean Watson are proud to announce that Greenwich Hospital has been named the latest National Caring Science Affiliate of WCSI. This prestigious designation highlights Greenwich Hospital's exemplary integration of Human Caring Theory and its leadership's dedication to fostering Watson's Caring Science practices for patients, families and staff throughout its healthcare system.

"Greenwich Hospital has demonstrated an unwavering commitment to the principles of Human Caring Science," says Dr. Jean Watson, Founder and Director of Watson Caring Science Institute. "Their focus on creating compassionate and healing environments aligns beautifully with our vision of care that honors the dignity and humanity of all individuals."

"This affiliation affirms Greenwich Hospital's commitment to putting patients first through evidence-based, caring, scientific practices," said Diane Kelly, DNP, RN, President of Greenwich Hospital and Chief Nursing Executive, Yale New Haven Health. "We are honored to partner with WCSI as we continue to innovate and prioritize the well-being of our community."

Greenwich Hospital's new designation as a National Caring Science Affiliate reinforces its leadership in patient-centered care. This partnership is expected to strengthen its initiatives in creating healing environments and promoting holistic care practices aligned with Watson's Caring Science philosophy.

Greenwich Hospital is a member of Yale New Haven Health. Greenwich is a 206-bed regional medical center serving lower Fairfield County, Connecticut and Westchester County, New York. It is a major academic affiliate of Yale School of Medicine.
