

FREE TRAININGS: Learn More about Caring in the Digital World

Announcing two FREE training modules for people who interact with students and colleagues online

Offered by Dr. Kathleen Sitzman, PhD, RN, CNE, ANEF, FAAN, Professor, East Carolina University, College of Nursing.

Training 1: Conveying and Sustaining Caring in Online Classrooms

http://www.ecu.edu/ofe/sessions_aching-modules.cfm

Training 2: Mindful Communication for Caring Online

http://www.ecu.edu/ofe/sessions_aching-modules.cfm

Learn how to envision and carry out personally meaningful caring for students and become acquainted with research-based tools for enacting engaged professional caring in online courses.

These training modules are FREE and can be completed by anyone who has access to the Internet, anywhere in the world.

Certificates of completion will be sent after participants submit a course reflection form at the end of the training.

East Carolina University Faculty can access these modules through Cornerstone at <http://www.ecu.edu/itcs/cornerstone> under Browse for Training > Academic Affairs > Office for Faculty Excellence, or at: http://www.ecu.edu/ofe/sessions_aching-modules.cfm

Completion of a module and submission of a successful DE Reflection Form will qualify for Faculty Development credit as an OFE DE training activity.

Those who do not work at ECU can access the modules here:

http://www.ecu.edu/ofe/sessions_aching-modules.cfm

A Certificate of Completion will be sent to participants who submit a Course Reflection Form within the module after content completion.

Sponsored by the East Carolina University Office for Faculty Excellence.